
Website Privacy Statement

1. This Privacy Policy

1.1 The Independent Financial Adviser ("IFA") referred to in the Contact section of this Web Site, is committed to protecting your personal information and other data provided to the IFA via this and any other IFA web site ("Web Site"). Please read this Privacy Policy carefully as it contains important information about the use of any information you provide to the IFA via this Web Site. This Privacy Policy explains what information the IFA collects about you, and how the IFA collects and uses your information, including setting out the circumstances where IFA could provide it to third parties. You should also read the separate the IFA User Terms that are applicable to this Web Site. To view the User Terms, click on the link shown below.

1.2 Because of the financial nature of the IFA's business, IFA's products and services are not designed to appeal to or to be sold to persons under the age of 18. Therefore, the IFA does not knowingly attempt to solicit or receive any information from children.

2. What information the IFA collects and what does the IFA do with it

2.1 To take advantage of some of the services offered via this Web Site you may be required to log on or register with the Web Site. The IFA and any third parties who hosts or maintains this Web Site may need to collect information about you and your computer to enable you to do so. The information will be collected when you register with the Web Site or when you choose to use one of the services available via the Web Site.

2.2 The IFA will only collect Information from the "Contact Us" form on the website to help us answer your enquiry as efficiently as possible. It is not used for marketing purposes and we will never pass your details to a third party.

2.3 The IFA or third parties hosting servers on the IFA's behalf may also monitor traffic patterns and usage of the Web Site to help it to improve the Web Site design and layout.

2.4 Please note that the IFA is not responsible for what any third party content provider or other third party offering goods and services via web sites linked to this Web Site may propose to do with information about you. So please ensure you read their terms and conditions carefully.

3. Sharing of Information with Third Parties

3.1 The IFA will not disclose your personal information to third parties other than as described in this clause (unless it is legally required to do so). The IFA may need to pass your information to third parties who help IFA to maintain, administer or develop the Web Site but, if so, that information is only given to those third parties for that limited purpose. In addition, The IFA may provide aggregate statistics about its customers, sales, traffic patterns and related Web Site information to reputable third-parties, but these statistics will include no personally identifying information.

3.2 The IFA reserves the right to access and disclose personal data or information to comply with applicable laws and lawful government requests, to operate its systems properly, or to protect itself or its users.

4. Your Consent

4.1 You acknowledge and agree that:

5 As required by the Data Protection Act 1998, The IFA follows strict security procedures in the storage and disclosure of information which you have provided via this Web Site, to prevent unauthorised access.

6. What are 'Cookies' and how does IFA use them?

6.1 A cookie is a piece of information that is stored on your computer's hard drive by your Web browser. On visiting the Web Site, your computer server will use the cookie to guarantee a secure connection. Most browsers accept cookies automatically, but usually you can alter the settings of your browser to prevent automatic acceptance. If you choose not to receive cookies, you may not be able to use certain features of this Web Site.

6.2 The IFA may conduct analyses of user traffic. These analyses will be performed through the use of IP addresses and cookies which are required to ensure a secure server connection. The IFA does not use cookies to store any personal data or browsing habits.

6.3 Third parties such as content providers may use cookies on this Web Site to collect personal information about you. IFA recommends that you read the privacy statement of any third party before using their web site. The IFA is not responsible for the use of such cookies or any other ways in which your personal data may be collected or used by such third parties.

7. Changes to Privacy Policy

The IFA reserves the right to add to or change the terms of this Privacy Policy in its sole discretion, without prior notice to you. If The IFA changes this Privacy Policy, The IFA will post the new Privacy Policy on the Web Site, and it will become effective from the time of posting to the Web Site. Please visit this Privacy Policy on a regular basis to make sure you have read the latest version and you understand what The IFA does with your information. Wherever possible, the IFA will give you notice of any changes prior to their implementation.

8. General

This Web Site contains links to other web sites. Please be aware that IFA cannot be held responsible for the privacy policies of such other sites. IFA encourages its users to be aware when they leave the Web Site and to read the privacy statements of each and every web site that collects personally identifiable information. This privacy statement applies solely to information collected by this Web Site.

9. Feedback
